

We're moving

No, not the site, you silly goat!
We are!

And so you'll have to hold your breath for one whole week until you get the next NLMA episode. I know, I know, I'm just like all those other podcasters who's life occasionally interferes with their shows.

So what to do in the meantime? Err... Dunno, listen to all previous episodes, roll up into a little ball of human misery in the bathtub crying "no, no, I can't live without that podcast, someone come and get me more of the stuff".

Don't worry, you'll pull trough ;)
